

HEMMED IN BY FIRE
MANY MINERS DIESHAFT ON THE FIFESHIRE
COLLIERY IT ABLAZE.

Nine Men Are Known to Be Dead With But Scant Chance of Rescuing Many More—Turkish Police Invade the Residences of Foreign Envoys—Cable News.

Edinburgh, June 1.—A shaft in the Fifeshire colliery caught fire this morning, and nine men are already dead, while the chances for the rescue of many more are very slim.

Constantinople, June 1.—Advices received here from Moosh state that the residence occupied by the French, British and Russian envoys has been forcibly entered by the Turkish gendarmes, who attempted to arrest a servant of the envoys. The Turks used abusive language, and were expelled with difficulty.

This incident, coupled with the news from Jeddah that the British Consul and Vice Consul, the Russian Acting Consul and the French Consul Secretary were attacked and shot at outside of the town, has caused much excitement in diplomatic circles. The British Vice Consul, as already cabled, was killed and the British Consul was slightly wounded. The other consular officers were seriously wounded. The shooting is attributed to Bedouins. Three British war ships have been ordered to Jeddah, with instructions to protect the lives of foreigners and to investigate the killing of the British Vice Consul and the wounding of the other consular officers.

The Russian, French and British ambassadors here have made representations to the Turkish government demanding prompt punishment for the culprits said to be Turkish gendarmes who forcibly entered the residence occupied by the envoys of Russia, France, and Great Britain at Moosh, using abusive language and attempted to arrest a servant of the envoys.

ENGAGEMENTS IN CUBA.

Spanish Claim the Advantage in Two Conflicts.

Havana, June 1.—Colonel Zamora, at the head of a detachment of 300 troops, found a number of insurgents occupying positions between Plaza de la Rincón de Caliente. An engagement followed and the troops captured the insurgents' position, the enemy leaving four dead on the field and carrying away their wounded. Lieutenant Fernandez, who was operating in combination with Colonel Zamora at the head of another but smaller detachment of troops, after opening fire upon the insurgents, charged one of their positions at the point of the bayonet and compelled the enemy to retire. The insurgents lost two killed and had several wounded. On the side of the troops one soldier was killed and three were wounded.

Fraud in Evanston Road Race.

Chicago, June 1.—Evidence of fraud is growing stronger hourly as the facts about Thursday's road race begin to creep out. Fifty-eight men who were named as being among the first 100 to finish are not checked as having passed Evanston in the first sixty-five men. Who won the race is as much of an unsettled question now as it was Thursday. It has been promised by those acting for the associated cycling clubs that the matter shall be thoroughly investigated, and the race may be run over again.

Leavenworth, Kas., June 1.—It is said all the convicts in the military prison are to be pardoned out by July 1, when the institution is to be turned into a United States penitentiary. All the prison workshops except the shoe and harness are shut down for lack of convicts to operate them. There are 2,450 United States convicts in state penitentiaries, and 600 of them are to be brought here immediately after July 1.

For Johnson and Zimmerman.

Springfield, Mass., June 1.—A match race is being arranged at Boston between J.S. Johnson and Zimmerman. The first preliminaries were talked over at the Waltham meet and there is great probability of a successful result of the negotiations. The purse will probably be the largest in the history of wheeling.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 1.—There will be no reapportionment by this legislature. This was settled yesterday by the defeat in the house of the congressional and legislative bills.

CROP CONDITIONS.

Figures Given by Statistician of Agricultural Department.

Washington, June 1.—Growing crops and progress of spring plowing May 1 is treated by the statistician of the Department of Agriculture in his latest report to Secretary Morton. According to this statement Illinois had a wheat average at that date of 90 per cent; winter rye, 92; barley, 91; meadows, mowing land, 90, and spring pasture 91. Plowing work already done was 78 per cent, being an increase of 12 per cent over the proportion usually done May 1. Iowa had 89 for wheat, 91 rye, 86 meadows and spring pasture; 87 plowing done, against 73 for preceding years. Michigan's figures are: Wheat, 78; rye, 88; meadows, 86; pasture, 87; plowing, 81 and 70 respectively. Indiana Crops Being Ruined.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 1.—The month of May went out yesterday with the unprecedented official thermometric figures at 95 degrees in the shade, five degrees hotter than any previous record in Indiana since official mercury records have been kept. The recent hot wave in Indiana has made the crop conditions more alarming in their results than at any time within the recollection of the oldest inhabitant. The soil has been fairly baked during the last few days, and under the influence of the mid-summer heat and scorching wind vegetation of all kinds is beginning to wither. The situation is alarming. No pest or plague that has ever visited Indiana begins to compare with what is described as the ruin predicted for this year.

Waterspout Does Damage.

Waco, Texas, June 1.—A waterspout struck near Hillsboro, Texas, last night, causing an eight-acre lake to burst through a dam. About six hundred feet of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad tracks were washed away. Similar damage was done to the Cotton Belt road. Rails were twisted in all sorts of shapes. All wires were torn down. Several hundred cattle were drowned in the Hackberry bottom near Hillsboro and one house was demolished and one man was drowned. No estimate can be made of the loss.

Rain Falls All Over Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., June 1.—For forty-eight hours rain poured throughout Nebraska and still continues in many counties. It is the most general and extended rain ever known in this state. All creeks are full to overflowing. A careful estimate shows no county has escaped the deluge. The small grains will only be half a crop owing to the dry condition of the soil from last year's protracted drought, but corn, which is 80 per cent of the entire state crop, is the heaviest known.

Morales Ready to Retire.

New York, June 1.—The Herald's special cable from Buenos Ayres says: "Advices from Rio Janeiro state that in political circles the report that President Morales will resign his office is receiving increased credence. The president is suffering with cancer of the liver and the disease has been aggravated by the hostile attitude of congress and the enmity displayed by resident foreigners. The vice-president has expressed a willingness to assume the office, if Morales should conclude to retire."

Distributing Diseased Chinch Bugs.

Columbia, Mo., June 1.—Since May 1 Dr. Paul Schweitzer, chemist of the Missouri State Experimental Station, has been issuing packages of diseased chinch bugs, to be distributed through the crop fields of the state for the purpose of creating an epidemic among the healthy bugs, thus exterminating them. The experiment with the infection made at the station has, it is said, proved thoroughly successful.

Cabezas Said to Have Taken $100,000.

Managua, Nicaragua, June 1.—Treasury Department Inspector Romero prefers charges against Cabezas, ex-governor of Mosquitia, alleging misuse of more than $100,000 government funds. The government's efforts to bring Cabezas here have so far been futile. The reports that a treaty is being negotiated with Japan giving canal privileges is denied here.

Instant Death for Four.

Raleigh, N. C., June 1.—The boiler at Deal's saw mill, near Downsville, Caldwell county, exploded, resulting in the death of four men. The killed: Fireman Edward Deal, Fireman Pender Oxford, Gordon Oxford, Ruben Jones. Two other young men were badly bruised and scalded, but will recover. Hastings. At the time of the flood the governor was in charge of the relief work.

Hot in the East.

New York, June 1.—This was the hottest 31st of May New York has known; that is to say, there is no evidence on the records of the Weather Bureau that there has been a hotter, and they extend back some twenty-five years. Many deaths and prostrations from the heat are reported. All through the east the same conditions are reported.

MOB BEATEN BACK
BY THE SHERIFFLYNCHING NARROWLY AVERTED
AT COVINGTON, IND.

Unsuccessful Attack Was Made At 3 O'clock This Morning By the Townpeople of Harveysburg Who Wanted to Hang Alvah Booe For Assaulting a Little Girl.

Covington, Ind., June 1.—A mob gathered at 3 o'clock this morning to lynch Alvah Booe, who is charged with assaulting a little girl at Harveysburg, between this place and Veederburg, but were dispersed by the sheriff. The townspeople had threatened to lynch him, but were prevented by wiser counsel. He was bound over to court in $1,000 bonds and taken to jail. The county officials had expected that a mob would organize to take summary vengeance on the prisoner, and were ready when they came.

Hinckley, Minn., June 1.—William Fitzsimmons stabbed Joe Vigue to death in front of the Cottage hotel here yesterday. The men quarreled and scuffled because Vigue let a horse get away, but they were separated. After the matter seemed to have been satisfactorily arranged Fitzsimmons drew a large knife and plunged it into Vigue's heart. The latter's friends may attempt to lynch Fitzsimmons.

WILL UPHOLD BIMETALLISM.

Chairman Carter Forecasts the Republican Attitude in 1896.

New York, June 1.—Thomas H. Carter, chairman of the republican national committee, in a public statement, says:

"In 1896 the republican party will stand for the restoration of bimetalism on a substantial and enduring basis. There may be differences of opinion in the party on the tariff schedules, but not upon the principle of protection. There will be differences of opinion as to the best course to pursue to secure the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at a fixed ratio, but there will be no difference of opinion as to the desirability of bringing about that result."

"Upon one question there will be neither difference of opinion nor as to the general principle involved nor as to the means to be employed. That is with reference to a vigorous, thoroughly American foreign policy. I am persuaded that the republican national convention will pledge the party anew and with the greatest earnestness and force to this line of policy. The people demand it."

HONOR DEAD HEROES.

G. A. R. and Ex-Confederates Join in Decorating Graves.

City of Mexico, June 1.—Very impressive Decoration Day services were held here at the American Cemetery over the graves of American soldiers who fell in the Mexican war, or who have since died in this capital. The portals of the cemetery were decorated with the American flag entwined with flowers and evergreen. The procession of G. A. R. and ex-confederates wended its way through the gates to dirge music by the Mexican Artillery band. The services were held this year at the grave of Francis de Gress, who died at Rinconada, Vera Cruz. Commander Morough opened the ceremonies and was followed with prayer by the chaplain, Rev. W. T. Sloan. Rev. A. R. Alexander then dressed the grave with a profusion of flowers. "America" was sung and the ceremonies closed with the memorial address by Rev. W. C. Vans.

Both Were Drowned.

Leigh, Neb., June 1.—E. C. Dimmick, manager of the Stanton Breeding Farm company's ranch, belonging to Marshall Field of Chicago, and Ed. Turner, his ranch foreman, were drowned yesterday. The accident happened while a dam was being repaired. A team got off the dam into the water, which was about 15 feet deep. Tucker rode his horse into the stream to try and get the team out. He was thrown off and was struggling between the horses, when Dimmick plunged into the water to save him, and in the struggle both were drowned.

Mr. Cleveland Will Rest.

Washington, June 1.—The special train bearing the president and members of the cabinet, who attended the late Secretary Gresham's funeral, arrived at the Baltimore & Ohio depot yesterday at 5 o'clock. The president was met at the station by his carriage and driven at once to his country place, Woodley. Carriages will carry the respective members of the party direct to their homes. Mr. Cleveland, it is understood, will not come to the white house tomorrow. It is quite possible he may not come to the city before Tuesday, the cabinet day.

Bad Blaze at St. John's, Mich. St. John's, Mich., June 1.—The finishing department, offices and dry-kilns of the St. John's Manufacturing company were destroyed by fire yesterday. Will Send to Russia for Seed.

Kansas City, Mo., June 1.—A. C. Jordan, of Rice county, Kansas, sergeant-at-arms of the last session of the Kansas legislature, talking on the subject of wheat crop failure in the state, said: "The board of railroad commissioners finds that failure is due to poor seed, and will send to Russia for seed wheat very soon. The board believes that the result will justify the expense."

TRADE CONDITIONS GRATIFYING

R. J. Dun & Company Report An Increase of Business This Week.

New York, June 1.—R. J. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: More far-reaching than any change during the last week, if really warranted by facts, is the continued rise in the prices of wheat and cotton. Real scarcity of either would affect all business. Happily there is still room to hope that acts of injury are greatly exaggerated, although there has been some evidence during the week that both the great crops have suffered more than at first appeared. Other changes are almost all favorable and some highly encouraging. Labor troubles are clearly less threatening. Monetary conditions are satisfactory and the substantial increase in the commercial demand is a good sign. Exchanges through the clearing-houses have been greatly inflated by speculation, and at this time last year were cut down by the coal strike and toward the end of May, 1893, greatly reduced by bank failures, but for the week ended last year's by 19 per cent and fall only 5.6 per cent below those of 1893, while the daily average for May is 26.9 per cent larger than last year, but 7.1 per cent less than 1893.

Wheat is largely supported by public buying, and the purchasing orders from farming regions are supposed to indicate an opinion of the yield. Yet wheat comes forward freely, as it would not at current prices if a short crop were assured, and western receipts for the month have been 5,944,574 bushels, against 5,525,253 last year. North Atlantic exports reflect increased haste to buy abroad, amounting in four weeks, four included, to 6,183,420 bushels, against 5,716,097 last year.

Cotton continues strong because it is believed there will be much reduction in yield per acre as well as in acreage. No estimate based on definite information puts the decrease in acreage at more than 13.5 per cent, which, with a yield per acre equal to last year's, would mean a crop of 8,400,000 bales.

The iron manufacturer is gaining rapidly, and the average of prices, which had fallen Feb. 1 to 64.1 per cent of the prices in October, 1890, has now risen to 59.1 per cent, most of the advances having been in May. It is believed the wage question will be settled at Pittsburgh this year without any strike. The failures during the last week have been 215 in the United States against 183 last year, and 34 in Canada against 27 last year.

Indignant Soldiers Spike Cannon.

Wichita, Kas., June 1.—Last night several National Guardsmen whose names are unknown went into the headquarters of the local artillery company, where all the cannon in possession of the state were stored, and spiked every gun with rat-tail files. During the firing of a salute Memorial day one of the cannon exploded, tearing off both arms of Private Fennel and the fingers of Private Walker. The accident caused considerable adverse comment upon the officers permitting the condemned cannon to be used, and last night's action on the part of the incensed soldiers was the result.

Opposed to Silver.

Atlanta, Ga., June 1.—At a meeting of the Southern Wholesalers' association the members uniformly declared themselves, in interviews, as opposed to the free coinage of silver. Capt. J. H. Martin of Memphis, the largest wholesale dealer in the south, at the meeting said Grover Cleveland should receive a salary of $100,000 and be elected for life. The statement was indorsed by the meeting.

Weavers Win Their Strike.

Woonsocket, R. I., June 1.—The woolen weavers of No. 1 mill at Blackstone have returned to work after an eight weeks' strike. The Riverside company, of Olneyville, conceded the advance of wages demanded.

To Carry Mails on Steam Tricycles.

W. P. Miller, of Ukiah, Cal., received a telegram recently announcing that he was the successful bidder for the mail route between Ukiah and Harris. Harris is ninety miles north. Mr. Miller's bid of $7,777 was over $100 less than the other bidders. Mr. Miller is disposing of all of his other stage lines now and will give his whole attention to the Ukiah and Harris route. He has placed an order for two six-horse-power gasoline tricycles, which he will use instead of horses. Mr. Miller says the tricycles work finely. He expects to have them here soon. Mr. Miller's contract runs for three years. This is the only stage line in the United States which will be run by steam tricycles, and the experiment will be watched with interest all over the country. They will have room for passengers and mail, and will have a speed of from three to twelve miles per hour. The route these machines will be placed on will give them a thorough test, as there is a great deal of mountain road to travel.

TALK OF CARLISLE.

His Name Prominently Mentioned for Secretary of State.

Washington, June 1.—There is a rumor among politicians here that Secretary Carlisle is to be transferred to the state department. Many of the heavy financial men in New York have long been opposed to Secretary Carlisle. It is a well-known fact that some of the solid men of Wall street, bankers and capitalists, united last winter in an informal suggestion to the president to relieve Carlisle from the treasury. Nothing definite has been given out, however, and the names of Ambassadors Eustis and Bayard are quite as frequently mentioned as is that of Carlisle. It is asserted that in case of Bayard's recall to become secretary of state William C. Whitney would go to the Court of St. James. There is no hurry over the appointment. Assistant Secretary Uhl becomes acting secretary of state without any action on the part of the president, and while a temporary appointment does not last for over thirty days, there is no law requiring a temporary or other appointment at any specified time.

COTTON FOR JAPAN.

American Shipments There Will Make a New Industry.

New York, June 1.—N. Hashiguchi, Japanese consul general in New York, is enthusiastic over the prospect that the cotton of the south will serve to draw the commercial relations of Japan and the United States still closer. He said to a reporter: "An American cotton dealer told me a few days ago that he had shipped 7,000 bales of raw cotton from the south to Japan, and we can manufacture cotton cloth there at a very small expense comparatively. We find a ready market for the made production in China and Corea, where the bulk of the people are so poor that they are obliged to wear cotton cloth."

Illinois Legislature.

Springfield, Ill., June 1.—Daniel S. Berry of Carroll County presided over the session of the House to-day in the absence of Mr. Meyer. The House was in a wrangle all day over the Torrens land bill, which was finally made a special order for Tuesday of next week. Some bills were advanced to third reading, among them the following: Senate bill appropriating $25,000 for erection of a monument to Elijah P. Lovejoy; Senate bill providing for the parole system in the penitentiaries; House bill to prevent the stealing of telegraph or telephone dispatches from news companies. There will be nothing here now until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the House will re-convene. The work of the session, aside from a few appropriations, is pretty well over. The general appropriation bill is yet to be put through and the tax levy bill.

Organized Gangs of Firebugs.

New York, June 1.—Following close upon the two-score of apparently incendiary fires on the upper West Side during the last three months comes the startling revelation that there are three regularly-organized gangs of fire-bugs in this city, who are in the hands of insurance adjusters and bound by oaths to imperil the lives and property of New Yorkers for a paltry few dollars, and not to disclose their secrets under penalty of torture. Many of the members of these gangs have been arrested, and the police promise sensational disclosures.

President Will Attend.

New York, June 1.—President Cleveland will officially attend the opening of the Harlem Ship canal. Gen. Viele, of the north side board of trade, who is much interested in the celebration to come off on June 17, made a trip to Washington to invite President Cleveland to be present on that day. Gen. Viele has announced to the board of trade that Mr. Cleveland would be here. "He told me," said Gen. Viele, "that he would so time his trip to Gray Gables as to stop in New York for the ceremonies."

Barrios to Have a Revolution.

New York, June 1.—A special from Quetzaltenango, Guatemala, says: "A correspondent who has just returned from Quetzaltenango and points on the Mexican frontier found many quiet evidences of preparations for a revolution against President Barrios. An outbreak may be expected in the fall. A large party in that section is working for annexation to Mexico."

PULLMAN COMPANY
WON THE BIG CASEDECISION WAS RENDERED IN THEIR FAVOR.

Business Declared to Be Legal Except the Owning of Stock in the Iron Company—Action Was Begun By the Attorney General As the Plaintiff against the Palace Car Company.

Chicago, June 1.—The case of the Attorney General against the Pullman Palace Car Co., was this morning decided in favor of the company, the court ruling that the business was legal except the owning of stock in the Pullman iron company.

SMOKED ON THE SCAFFOLD.

Henderson and Jeffrey Hanged at Murphysboro, Ill., for an Old Murder.

Murphysboro, Ill., June 1.—Douglas Henderson and Frank Jeffrey were hanged here at 8:15 o'clock yesterday for the murder of James Towle at Carterville last winter. Henderson mounted the gallows making a cigar, puffing it as coolly as a campaign orator. Before the black cap was drawn over his face he made this little speech: "Gentlemen: I am here to tell you goodbye. I hope I shall meet you in heaven. I want to warn you all to keep out of bad company."

His voice was very strong and clear. Jeffrey was not so cool and showed signs of nervousness, but both mounted the scaffold without effort. Jeffrey also spoke, saying: "I am going to die for a crime I never committed. I never done it."

The preparations for the execution were then quickly completed, the trap sprung and in twelve minutes the condemned men were pronounced dead. Jeffrey's neck was broken, but Henderson died of strangulation. The bodies were sent to Carterville, the home of the men, where they were buried.

Together in Life and Death.

Charleston, Ill., June 1.—General G. M. Mitchell was working in his garden yesterday morning when he fell dead. Mrs. Mitchell was so overcome with grief that she died four hours later. The funeral of both will occur Sunday afternoon. G. M. Mitchell was born in Kentucky in 1835 and came to Illinois in 1851. He entered the army in 1861 as captain of Company C, First Illinois volunteers, was promoted to the rank of colonel in 1863 and was mustered out of service Nov. 3, 1865, as brigadier general.

Free Silver Men to Take Action.

Chicago, June 1.—It is claimed here, on apparently good authority that not only will the free silver democrats of Illinois adopt an unlimited silver coinage platform at their state convention at Springfield next week, but they will also adopt and send forth a memorial address to the free silver democrats of the country calling for a national democratic monetary convention to be held during the coming autumn, the date to be hereafter fixed by a conference of members of various state committees.

Compliment to Gresham's Memory.

Washington, June 1.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador and dean of the Diplomatic Corps at Washington, yesterday forwarded to Mrs. Gresham a letter couched in the most flattering terms expressive of the feelings of the foreign representatives in Washington on the death of the late Secretary of State. The letter was approved by all the Ambassadors and Ministers at Washington.

Cut to Pieces by a Negro.

Baltimore, Md., June 1.—The 9-month-old baby of George Simpson, who resides near Marion Station, Somerset County, was horribly butchered by a colored boy yesterday. It seems that the parents of the child had engaged a colored girl to nurse it, and while they were absent the colored girl took it to her home, and while there a small negro boy cut it nearly to pieces with a knife.

Gov. Morton All Right.

New York, June 1.—Gov. Morton left New York yesterday at 8:30 o'clock for Albany. To a reporter he said that he experienced no ill effects from the attack of faintness which he had felt while on the reviewing stand yesterday. "It was not exactly faintness," said Gov. Morton. "For half an hour or more I felt that the sun was unbearably hot. My breathing became obstructed and I collapsed for an instant. I felt quite like myself again ten minutes after the attack passed away."

Erickson Will Have a Trial.

Dubuque, Iowa, June 1.—It is thought that the torpedo boat Erickson will make a preliminary trial trip Sunday on the Long Island course. It is thought the improvement in her machinery made since last fall will give her a speed of twenty-five knots, or one knot above requirements.

Good Rain in South Dakota.

Yankton, S. D., June 1.—Within the last thirty-six hours one and seven-tenths inches of rain have fallen in this section of South Dakota. Small grain and corn were immensely benefited, and farmers generally are much encouraged.

Call Hamilton no Better.

Washington, June 1.—Miss Abigail Dodge remains about the same. The hot weather has a depressing effect, but she is conscious at intervals and rests fairly well.

Representative Hitt's condition improves, but is very slightly different from Thursday, and remains almost critical.

Taylor's Bondsmen Sued.

Pierre, S. D., June 1.—The suit against the Taylor bondsmen was closed yesterday. Judge Gaffey ordered a verdict for the full amount claimed, $311,277.

GALA WEEK PLANNED FOR THE GRADUATES

THE JANESVILLE HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

Bishop Fallows Will Speak, The Columbia Male Quartette Will Sing and The Juniors Will Present Shakespeare, Julius Caesar With Elaborate and Correct Costumes.

A whole week of commencement delights are planned for this year. More and more the end of the school year is becoming a notable event in the city's life. The classes that graduate from the high school are becoming larger each year, while a larger number of citizens look forward to the events of the week with pleasant anticipation. The program of the events is now made out and will open with the address to be delivered by Rev. Samuel B. Fallows at the Congregational church, Sunday evening, June 9, at 8 o'clock. Everyone in the city is invited to be present. The coming of Bishop Fallows on this occasion is especially appropriate. He is not only a pleasant speaker, but for three terms he held the office of superintendent of instruction of Wisconsin. When the war broke out he was made colonel of a regiment made up almost entirely of young men from the educational institutions of the state. Janesville's high school supplied a part of the roll of this regiment, the male portion of the graduating class entering as a body under his command. Since the war, positions of honor and trust have been his without stint and he is today one of Chicago's most honored pastors.

Seats will be reserved for the classes of the high school and the Junior girls will have charge of the ushering. A large chorus choir will furnish the music for the occasion. This is a public meeting and is in no sense a union of the churches, although it is understood that all the churches having evening service will give up their service for that evening. The Junior Exhibition.

The Junior's exhibition will be given on Tuesday evening, June 11, at the Myers Grand. Shakespeare's play, "Julius Caesar" will be put on the stage by the members of the Junior class. The following is the cast:

No pains nor expense will be spared to make this presentation an entirely successful one. At great expense the customer whose drawings and plans were accepted by the World's Fair committee for the wonderful procession of allegorical and historical floats has been secured to costume the play and to fit the accessories. The customer will be in the city to work up the stage settings next week. The admission price for this exhibition will be 25, 35 and 50 cents. Pupils will have tickets for sale. A large attendance from surrounding towns is expected.

The Class Day Exercises. The graduating class' class day exercises will take place Wednesday evening, June 13, at the Myers Grand Opera house. It is expected that the exercises will be somewhat in form of a play and genuine sport will be the order of the day. No one is invited to this exercise who does not enjoy school jokes and levity. The opera house was so crowded last year when a similar exercise was given that it was thought best to make a small charge of ten cents so that there may be room for the special friends of the graduates. The public generally is invited to be present.

The regular graduating exercises will take place June 13, Thursday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, at the Myers Grand opera house. No charge for admission will be made, and all are welcome. The usual orations will be delivered, and the twenty-three graduates will receive their diplomas. The presentation address will be made by the president of the board of education.

Commencement Concert.

The commencement concert will be given by the Columbia Male Quartette of Chicago, Thursday evening June 13, at the opera house. The people of Janesville need congratulate themselves most heartily on this opportunity, which will be presented to them of hearing the best male quartette in Chicago. Their voices are not worn out, but are flexible and harmonious. The finest music, and the most popular music they will render in faultless style. This quartette has been secured to sing at the K. T. conclave to be held in Boston this year and this speaks volumes for their ability as a quartette. They will be assisted by Mr. Robinson, one of Chicago's star performers on the guitar and other instruments. He never fails to catch his audience and to hold them. An impersonator may also be secured. The prices for the concert are 25, 35 and 50 cents. The Columbia Male Quartette will furnish the music for the graduating exercises in the afternoon.

The Alumni Association will hold their annual reunion and banquet on Friday evening, June 14. The members of the association are putting forth extra efforts to make the reunion this year an especially notable one. Addresses and toasts will form the literary part of the program and the banquet will be the best ever given. Many of the older members of the association are expected to be present.

GOSSIP FROM WISCONSIN TOWNS

PETER FREDERICKSON unearthed a number of skeletons on the Elm farm north of Rochester, near the Fox river. They are no doubt those of Indians, as several trinkets commonly worn by the aborigines were found in one of the graves.

A NEW bank is to be established at Brodhead, to be known as the Citizens' Bank of Brodhead. The capital stock is $50,000, most of which is already subscribed for.

A DAIRYMAN near Highland turned his cows upon fall sown rye, as it was good pasture, and found that the flow of milk largely increased.

A Lightning Change.

It is but a short week since F. C. Cook & Co.'s ceiling and walls of his jewelry store represented a very dingy appearance. Their stock being one of the finest ever offered for sale, it did seem to them as if they should devise some way to have the store in keeping with the stock. So Mr. Cook, the senior member, went to work. He consulted different artists, but the ideas of none suited him until he met Mr. Morton of Chicago and he had just the ideas for a fine jewelry store. So F. C. O. engaged him almost a week ago, and he finished his work yesterday, and we can say without fear of contradiction that F. C. Cook & Co. have now one of the handsomest jewelry stores, from every point of view, that there is in the country. It is a model store; bright, attractive and handsome. The work put upon the ceiling is something new in Janesville, and as we are not versed enough in such art to attempt to describe it, we will have to take the liberty to ask you, for F. C. Cook & Co., to go and see it.

Excellence.

Agnes Fuller as Parthenia is a beautiful poem. She reads the grand of Waldaur as if they truly were her own. In appearance she is our ideal Parthenia. Her finely chiselled features especially adapt her to the part of the Greek girl, while her voice is sweet and musical, yet powerful. In her passionate scene she arises in grandeur. Altogether, she is the best we have seen—Nashville Republic. At the Grand next week, commencing Monday night.

Memorial Day Bills.

It is requested that all parties having bills against the Memorial day committee, will please present them for settlement at Thoroughgood & Co.'s office Monday, June 3, as it is my purpose to give an account of all receipts and expenditures, it will therefore be necessary that all demands be accompanied by bills for same. J. Thoroughgood, chairman citizens committee.

A FEAST OF REASON AND FLOW OF SOUL

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB BANQUET WAS MUCH ENJOYED.

Toasts, a Banquet and a Dance Made the Hours Pass Quickly—Modern Woodmen Met and Made Plans—Pleasant Tea Given by the Misses Bowles—Social Notes.

With a banquet, a dance and a feast of reason the members of the Fortnightly club closed their season's work last evening and the occasion was thoroughly enjoyable for all who attended. About ninety members and invited guests sat down to the tables and George L. Carrington acted as toastmaster. After the good things to eat had been discussed, toasts were called for.

J. C. Bartholf responded to the subject "A Better Tomorrow" holding that a better tomorrow must be founded on a today better than yesterday. To Hon. John R. Bennett was assigned the subject "The Courts Treated Factionally," which, he said, was a pretty large subject to be covered in a few minutes' talk. He cited Job and Samuel of olden testament times, Sir Matthew Hale, Fortesque, Blackstone and later Justice Ryan, Whiton and Byron Payne in the statement that all judges up to the present time had been upright, a fact that afforded him much gratification and in closing he told a number of good stories and paid a tribute to the judges of today.

"The Frog's Wedding," a guitar solo by H. L. Hoard of Fort Atkinson followed, and he was given an encore the response to which was equally well received. Mrs. C. V. Kerch's toast came next, it being on "George Eliot, the Biographer of the Human Soul," in which she eulogized both George Eliot, the novelist, and George Eliot, the woman. Attorney J. J. Cunningham's subject was "The Progress of the Feminine" and was dealt with entertainingly, arguing that her progress kept step with education and she should enter all the professions. H. L. Hoard's vocal solo, "The Future Mrs. 'Awkins" came next and preceded Miss M. Roberta Holmes, talk on "The Decline of the Masculine" which was running over with bright sayings and sparkling with wit. To William Smith was assigned the toast "The Gastric Problem of Civilization" and he accounted for its being given to him by saying that there was no other member whose make up was suitable. His remarks were very interesting and closed with a funny story.

After making a few remarks as the retiring president, he having served in that capacity for a long time, President Carrington introduced Alderman E. Ray Inman, the incoming president who said he hoped he would prove himself worthy of the honor bestowed, after which he announced Mrs. Walter Helms, Judge J. R. Bennett, Mrs. C. V. Kerch, Rev. V. E. Southworth, Mrs. G. L. Carrington and I. C. Brownell as the programme committee for the coming year. Dancing then began and lasted until midnight.

The committees who had the banquet in charge were as follows:

Arrangements—I. C. Brownell, E. Ray Inman and Walter Helms.

Reception—Mr. and Mrs. W. Helms. Miss Millie Chittenden, Miss Ida Harris and Prof. H. C. Buell.

Arrangements and Allotting of Toasts—W. Smith, Prof. H. C. Buell and Miss Carolyn Kimball.

The banquet, which was served by the ladies of All Souls church, was all that could be desired and added new laurels to their already wide reputation, the menu being:

Biscuit. Chicken Salad. Olives. Ham. Tongue Pickles. Coffee. Lemon Jelly. Orange Jelly. Angel Food. Assorted Cakes. Ice Cream.

The program committee will meet on Friday evening, June 14, with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Helms to arrange the program for the work of the next year.

WOODMEN BEGIN THE CANVASS

Committee Appointed To See About Getting the Big Picnic.

J. D. Holmes, Captain W. T. Vankirk and W. H. Ashcraft were last night appointed by the members of Florence Camp, Modern Woodmen of America to call on Janesville business men to see what could be done in the way of securing the annual picnic of the order next season. The meeting at which this action was taken was held last night and was a large and enthusiastic one. A committee of three, consisting of William Masterson, W. T. Vankirk and Dr. J. F. Pember, was appointed to wait upon Supt. S. C. Cobb, of the Janesville Machine company, and ascertain if arrangements could not be made to shut down the works next Thursday, as many of the employees are desirous of attending the picnic. The fare is but $1.19 for the round trip and there will be all kinds of amusements for those who go. Janesville's delegation will consist of three or four hundred.

Amboy's Loss Is Janesville's Gain

A representative of the Gazette dropped into Dr. Thorne's office on Milwaukee street today and was greatly interested in examining the appliances and instruments he has for his work. He has a battery which runs small electric lights, which are used to illuminate the ear, nose and throat, and determine the exact condition of these parts. This battery is also used with various instruments in the treatment of disease.

The doctor showed us a powerful microscope which he uses in many practical ways, such as detecting the germs of consumption. The doctor has a collection of over four hundred mounted microscopic specimens of tumors, cancers, etc.

Dr. Thorne is well educated in his profession and is fully equipped for the successful treatment of the diseases he has made a specialty of, according to the best and latest methods of the leading specialists.

He stands well in the medical profession and is the author of several Monographs. "Deflections of the Nasal Septum," is a treatise written by Dr. Thorne and published by George S. Davis, Detroit, Mich.

He will permanently reside in Janesville and will be a valuable addition to the business interests of the city as he will get patients from a large district of surrounding territory, and we will repeat again that "Amboy's loss is our gain" and we're glad of the transaction.

PAIN.

Thou drear companion of the slow night hours,
Thou sharper of the soul, long, long had I Waged weary combat with thee, though my cry
Of anguish only cheered thy mocking powers,
As through the years we strove, no respite ours.
Till, lo, one day each breathed victorious
sigh.
The master, thou, of my mortality,
But master who beneath my spirit cowers,
A slave forever. Now fast friends are we,
My vanquished victor, pain, and much I owe
To thy stern fellowship. Through thee I see With quickened sense all things both high and low,
For knowing all that I can never be,
Tutored by thee, all wider life I know.
—Elizabeth West in Century.

A BOAT RACE STORY.

Jack Davenant was the stroke of the Cambridge university eight. He was a man greatly to be envied. Wealthy—his father was a large mine owner in the north—popular, good looking and thought to be one of the best strokes turned out from either university for some time. Last, but not least, he was engaged to be married at Easter to Ruth Meynell, as bonny a lass as need be, with whom he had been in love for some years.

It was the afternoon before the great event when the following telegram reached him:

Meet me, King's Cross, 5.30. DAVENANT.

Jack was delighted, for it had been a great disappointment to him when his father had told him that business of importance would prevent his witnessing the race. When the train glided slowly into the station, you may be sure that a cordial greeting was exchanged between father and son. But Jack was startled to see how greatly altered his father's appearance was from what it had been three months before.

"Well, how do you think I'm looking, dad?" he exclaimed presently, when they were seated in a private sitting room in the Great Northern hotel. "We are all of us in good form, I believe, and shall make the Oxford lot do all they know, I'm certain. There's only one thing I can't make out. Have you noticed how strongly the betting goes on Oxford? It was '4 to 1 on' in this evening's paper. If it were not absurd, I should think that there was some plot on to damage our boat or something, only that's impossible. But anyhow I can't help feeling anxious. Those 'bookies' are generally right in their odds on this race, and there is nothing in our respective form and times to warrant the long odds. Do you know, I feel that I must win this race. I'd willingly give five years of my life to be certain of it!"

Here Jack saw his father turn ghastly pale. He darted out of the room and was back again in a minute with some brandy, which he made his father swallow, and waited with intense eagerness to hear what was the matter, anxiously requesting to be allowed to send for a doctor at once.

"No," said his father, "that is no good. I have already consulted one about these heart seizures, which are common enough just now. My doctor says that any intense excitement might carry me off like the crack of a gun. Those were his words. But that doesn't matter, Jack," he added. "Brace yourself for a great shock, one which will try even your strong nerves. Jack, my poor boy, your words went through me like a knife just now. Mine is a dreadful errand up here to see you today. Jack, I have come to tell you that we are utterly ruined. Fool—villain that I am, I have, urged with the desire to leave you vast wealth, speculated largely and lost."

At first Jack thought that his father had taken leave of his senses. The shock was tremendous, but varsity strokes are the material of which the leaders of forlorn hopes are made. His strict training and strong nerves soon came to his aid, and he tried to cheer up his father by the usual commonplaces of hoping that it wasn't so bad as his father dreaded it to be. And then the thought of the great event in which he was to take such a prominent part on the morrow rushed across his mind, and he couldn't help saying:

"But if you love me, as you say you do, how could you bring me such ghastly news at such a time as this, when the fact of my knowing it one day sooner or later could make no earthly difference to our circumstances? It was wickedly cruel not to keep the news till after the race."

"Stop, Jack," his father replied. "You mustn't blame me unjustly. You have sufficient reason to blame, yes, hate, me without that. Listen! I told you I loved you, and I do. It was for you that I have acted as I have done. As I just said, I am a doomed man. At the outside, I am only given one year to live. And time being so short, and my affairs so shaky, what was I to do? Draw closer to me, closer, Jack! A whisper heard would be fatal."

Jack bent down his head, and his face became as white as his father's. And this is what he heard:

"Jack, I have put every halfpenny I possess, and more—£50,000—on Oxford for tomorrow's race."

For a moment Jack looked at his father. He was fairly staggered. Then, without a word, he took up his hat and left the hotel, haunted by his father's pale, entreating face, and made his way to the training quarters.

The day of the race broke bright and fair, and London turned out her thousands of holiday makers, as only London can. The race was finely contested throughout, and it was only in the last quarter of a mile that the light blue flag forged slowly ahead, and after the most exciting struggle ever witnessed—if we except the memorable dead heat—Cambridge won.

Ruth Meynell, who was staying with some friends in town to witness the race, had no doubt been one of the most interested and excited of the spectators. At the point where she had seen the crews pass, Oxford happened to be leading. So her delight was proportionately great when the news of the light blue victory reached her.

Surely a girl was never so happily situated! Loving and beloved, and her sweetheart—who had promised to spend the evening with her friends—the hero (for the moment) of the whole civilized world.

We left Jack on his way to the hotel where the Cantabs were staying. It is impossible to describe his feelings, the shock had been so great. He had loved and revered his father so much, and always thought of him as the soul of honor.

And now there was only one course open for him, either to do or die, though to help to win the race was to help his own utter ruin. And then Ruth? What of her? Oh, he mustn't even think of that. The race and winning—it must be his only aim and object. Small wonder, then, that it was remarked at the start that Davenant looked "off color."

We have seen, however, that he had literally pulled the race out of the fire. Strong man though he was, the severe mental and physical strain told on him, and he had to be lifted out of the boat at the finish. But he was strong as iron and quickly recovered. How he wished he might not! For what had he to live for now? The shouts and cheers seemed bitter mockery. He recalled his father's whisper and saw again the imploring look. Jack knew that he was a beggar.

Making his recent indisposition an excuse for not dining with the crews that night, and refusing the many kind offers of companionship, he drove to the Great Northern hotel, where the fame of the victory had preceded him, and made inquiries as to his father's movements. His father had ordered dinner at 7 and was going northward with the mail that night. Jack decided to wait for him, and having had light refreshment sat down to smoke and reflect on the events of the last two days.

Presently the waiter brought him an evening paper, and on running his eye over the news he saw a paragraph headed, "Death From Excitement at the Boat Race.—News just to hand that at the conclusion of the race, the finish of which was extremely exciting, an elderly gentleman in full sight of the finish was seen to stagger and fall. Medical attendance was speedily obtained, but life was pronounced to be extinct. The remains were removed to the mortuary awaiting the inquest. From letters and papers on the deceased it is feared that he was G. Davenant, Esq., father of that brilliant oarsman who today stroked the Light Blues in such a gallant manner. Our readers will join with us in expressing the hope that this may prove to be a mistake."

Jack never knew how he got through the next few days. He did all that was necessary in a perfectly mechanical manner. He had his father's remains buried in the family vault. Also he wrote to Ruth, telling her that "he could never marry her, though it almost broke his heart to say so." And then, as might be expected, the overtaxed brain and body gave way, and Jack Davenant lay in his father's stately mansion sick unto death at the very time that Ruth Meynell—not knowing of his serious illness and scorning to wear her heart on her sleeve—had arranged to tour with friends abroad.

And so these two young lives, which but a few days before seemed so full of life and hope, were blighted as it seemed at their very outset.

In due time Jack pulled through. And then, for the first time for many a sad day, the light of hope shone upon him, and he understood what before had been inexplicable—namely, that instead of being the pauper he feared he was, he was really immensely rich.

His father had certainly lost money in the troublous times of strikes, but not sufficient to impair his princely fortune. Business worry, telling upon an enfeebled frame, coupled perhaps with natural excitement about the race in which his son was to take such a leading part, had brought about that dreadful hallucination from which he had suffered, for, in fact, he had not bet one farthing on the event.

The most learned scientists cannot undertake to explain the subtle working of the mind diseased. But it was suggested that since those interested in the result of the "varsity boat race" are often guided in their hopes by the state of the betting it might be inferred that Jack's father had been too intently watching the odds.—London Tit-Bits.

The Riddle of the Cid.

A mediæval condottier in the service of the Moslem, when he was fighting to fill his own coffers with perfect impartiality against Moor or Christian, banished as a traitor by his Castilian sovereign, and constantly leading the forces of the infidel against Aragon, against Catalonia, and even against Castile, he has become the national hero of Spain.

Warring against the Moslem of Valencia, whom he pitilessly despoiled with the aid of the Moslem of Saragossa, whose cause he cynically betrayed, while he yet owned a nominal allegiance to Alfonso of Castile, whose territories he was pitilessly ravaging, retaining conquered Valencia for his personal and private advantage, in despite of Moslem and Christian kings, he has become the type of Christian loyalty and Christian chivalry in Europe. Avaricious, faithless, cruel and bold, a true soldier of fortune, the Cid still maintains a reputation which is one of the enigmas of history.—"History of Spain," U. R. Burke.

Taxing Titles.

The republic of France does not propose to allow people to hang on to old titles without paying for the privilege. It proposes to tax all such titles, and the schedule as made up is as follows: Prince, 1,000 francs; duke, 800 francs; marquis, 700 francs; viscount, 500 francs; baron, 400 francs; double prefix, 200 francs; single prefix, 100 francs. It would be a still greater improvement if France should abolish all titles. They are out of place under a republican form of government.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

THE CIRCULATING MEDIUM.

In all of the arguments advanced in favor of free silver coinage on a 16 to 1 basis, not an effort is made to show that the country is in need of more silver, or that the circulating medium is not equal to all legitimate demands. This feature of the discussion is neglected, because every intelligent man knows that an ample supply of money is in sight, and easily obtained. Labor demands and receives cash today just as readily as it ever did. Farm products of every description command cash on delivery, and cash responds as cheerfully and promptly as ever. The merchant and manufacturer who finds it necessary to borrow from time to time, finds the banks just as ready to accommodate and with ample facilities. What legitimate demand is there for more money? Absolutely none. To be sure there are classes of people in various sections of the country who are constantly clamoring for more money, and who seem possessed with the idea that if the government in some way had a larger supply, that fortune, that indefinable goddess, would scatter it broadcast, and in the general scramble, they would secure a liberal share. The destitute sections of Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas, and some of the other states, where the natural conditions are unfavorable, readily develop populist theories and clamor for government aid in the form of 2 per cent loans or direct contribution. Another class found in the cities and known as anarchists, socialists and labor agitators believe that the world owes them a living and advocating that theory they are convinced that the country needs more money, but the rank and file of humanity, including all classes, who do any thinking for themselves, know that the volume of money is ample for all legitimate demands. They care but little about traditional silver or gold, because present experience satisfies them that there is no shortage of money. The gold of this country, amounting to about $600,000,000 has practically been retired from circulation for the past six months. It is not visible at the banks or in the channels of trade. The silver of the country, or at least about $400,000,000 of it is stored in government warehouses at the national capital, so that the gold and silver representing in volume a round billion of dollars, is not actively employed and, yet the country is in no way inconvenienced. Money is readily produced for all legitimate demand, and the wheels of trade and commerce run just as smoothly as they would if all the gold and all the silver was actively employed. It is the height of nonsense to claim that if the supply of silver was doubled that any more of it would circulate. The man who works for two dollars a day and receives his pay every Saturday night, would feel insulted if he was compelled to take twelve silver dollars every week; he prefers the paper currency, just the same as the man who handles more money, because it is more convenient. What the country needs just now, more than anything else, is a collateral party; a party that will convince the people that nothing but labor of some kind will produce money of any kind. This doctrine the republican party endorses and teaches. The circulating medium of the country is ample.

FOUND A MYSTERIOUS BOTTLE

"J. Rusty Burt" of Shopiere, Claims to Have Drowned Himself.

While patrolling the bank of the river yesterday afternoon, a small boy found a whisky bottle on the shore near the jail. The bottle contained a note which was read by Turnkey North, running as follows:

"Have drowned myself, cuz I can't pay my bills. The finder will please give this note to the mayor of Shopiere and oblige J. Rusty Burt."

Wherever Mr. Burt is he must have had the opinion that Rock river flows backward, and the sheriff thinks that the bottle must have had a hard time in getting over the Monterey dam. The corpse has not yet appeared.

BOYS' HAND TORN BY AN UGLY RAT

Young Loren Morse Went for a Rodent "Without Gloves"

Without the aid of a steel trap, a Winchester rifle, or a bob-tailed fox terrier, Loren Morse is convinced that he is not a success at catching rats. He came to this conclusion this morning after a painful experience that will cause him to carry his right hand in bandages while the rat is still enjoying health and perfect freedom of the Morse restaurant on West Milwaukee street. Young Morse noticed an overgrown rat foraging around some barrels at his father's restaurant this morning and thought it would be sport to catch the forager. Accordingly he quietly approached the barrels, and waited an opportunity. He did not wait long, and when the rat crawled from its hiding place, Morse made a grab for it, and the rat returned the compliment. Morse was not successful in grabbing, but the rat was, for it had opportunities of practice. The rodent caught Morse's right hand and the result was that the hand was severely cut by sharp teeth. Dr. R. W. Edden was compelled to apply antiseptics to remove the possibility of blood poison or other serious consequences.

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL NEWS

It's a pleasure to ride in one of those Albemarle Stanhopes. We never knew they were so easy and comfortable until Frank Kimball asked us to take a ride with him today. He has one. The Wisconsin Carriage Top Co. make them. It seemed pretty rich for a newspaper man to be there beside a rich undertaker, and we said to Mr. Kimball: "Only the rich can enjoy such luxuries as these," and he said: "Oh, no. Almost any one can have one of these buggies as the Wisconsin Carriage Top Co. sells so cheap." Just then Fred Vandewater came along and we didn't want to carry on a private conversation in his presence, and we quit. But they are really a handsome rig.

MRS. BACON IS GIVEN A BILL OF DIVORCE

MILTON CASE CAME TO AN END TODAY.

Plaintiff Will Also Have the Use of the Family Home, the Custody of the Minor Child and Control of All the Personal Property—One Charge Sustained.

Judge Bennett listened to the remainder of the testimony in the Bacon-Bacon divorce case this morning, at the conclusion of which he granted the decree of divorce, on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. The complaint made three distinct charges as a basis for divorce proceedings, habitual drunkenness, failure to support, and cruel and inhuman treatment. The court did not think the evidence sufficient to sustain the first two charges. The property which consists of a house and lot in the village of Milton is given to the plaintiff, who is to have control of the same until the youngest child, a girl now about thirteen, is married or arrives at the age of twenty-one, when it is to be divided equally between the plaintiff and defendant. The plaintiff also has the control of the minor child, and also all the personal property consisting of household goods.

ANSWERED THE FINAL SUMMONS

Benjamin H. Gardiner.

Benjamin H. Gardiner died at 10:45 o'clock last evening, of consumption, aged twenty-one years. Deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gardiner, 51 Ruger avenue, and had been ill with the deceptive disease for some months. He walked about the yard yesterday, and ate his supper on the porch; but for the first time since his illness, however, he was unable to walk up-stairs to bed without assistance. A few hours after retiring, his heart ceased to beat and the end came. Most of the young man's life had been spent on his father's farm in the town of Bradford. The funeral will be held from the family home, 51 Ruger avenue, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the burial will be in the cemetery at Emerald Grove.

STONE FARM FIGHT BEFORE THE COURT

ATTORNEY SAYS IT WAS A REGULAR RIOT.

While Wm. Price, One of the Defendants Insists that He and August Walan Did Not Chase the Women, Break the Furniture Nor Attack Overseer W. F. Thorman.

There was a high old time up on the historic Stone farm in the town of Fulton last evening, which resulted in a panic among the women and children, a fight between the men, and finally an arrest or two, with prospects of considerable litigation.

"There was a regular riot up there," explained one of the attorney's in the case at law that followed the trouble in the municipal court this morning, while informing the court concerning the magnitude of the affair. "One of these men, who appears to have been a leader and incited the others on, drove the women and children out of the house, and then commenced wrecking and destroying property, by breaking windows and throwing furniture out of doors."

The prisoners before the bar were August Walan and William Price, the former a Swede and the latter a German. Both were farm laborers working on the Stone farm. It appears that William F. Thorman, the overseer of the large farm, came to the city yesterday morning to attend to some business, while Walan, Price and another laborer employed on the farm came over to Edgerton to purchase some personal clothing. While in Edgerton they drank some beer, and also purchased a keg of beer and carried it back to the Stone farm, evidently intending to have a good time in the evening.

Trouble Came Quickly.

Mr. Thorman did not return until they got back from Edgerton, and when he drove up to the house found that something wrong had taken place, the women and children being driven out, while the men held high carnival. A fight ensued, as Thorman claims, the men Walan and Price attacking him. However, Walan and Price both show unmistakable signs that, even if they were the attacking party, they came out a very poor second best. Walan's face this morning appeared painfully swollen and bruised, there being a number of contusions on his forehead and cheeks, while Price appeared with a crippled shoulder, which was probably dislocated. They were arrested on a warrant charging assault and battery, and on both pleading not guilty, the case was continued until Monday at 11 o'clock. Ogden H. Fethers appears for the state and J. L. Mahoney for the defendants. Bail was placed at $100, and in default Walan was committed.

Price's story, as related in court, would make the matter more mild than the attorney stated. He says the women and children were not chased out of the house, but got frightened and ran out; that on returning from Edgerton they undertook to have some fun, and played drunk, but did not attempt to fight or destroy things, and that a tin dipper was the only thing thrown out of an open window, and that no windows were broken. He insists that Mr. Thorman commenced the fight as soon as he arrived from Janesville, by attacking Walan, and that when he, Price, interfered by requesting him to quit pounding Walan, he was pushed off a platform and his shoulder injured.

Clinton Troubles in Court.

Thomas Ames, of Clinton, was arrested and brought into the municipal court this afternoon on charge of assault and battery, the complaining witness being Mrs. Abbie Teeter, of the same village. Mr. Ames pleaded not guilty, when the trial was set for June 7, at 10 a. m. The defendant asked that the state subpoena his witnesses on the ground that the prosecution was malicious.

In explaining the case Mr. Ames said he lived next neighbor to the Teeters; that some trouble existed between Mrs. Teeter and her husband. Ames says, Mr. Teeter came over to the Ames house and said that Mrs. Teeter had taken all the wood away from him, and asked him to come over and prepare some so that he could build a fire. Mr. Ames went over to the Teeter home and commenced splitting some stove wood.

"Mrs. Teeter then came out with a butcher knife in one hand and a hoe in the other and attacked me," said Mr. Ames, "and I defended myself."

BUTTER TAKES A DROP IN PRICE

Green Pastures Have the Desired Effect on the Rates.

The price of butter has taken a tumble from twenty to sixteen cents within the past few days, for the best grade of dairy. A west side grocer says that the demand has remained about the same, but since the recent rains, the pastures in all parts of the state have picked up and improved so that nearly twice as much butter is now sent into the city as could be had three weeks ago. Although Janesville gets a large portion of her supply from the farmers, the major part is shipped in from neighboring towns and the creameries of the state.

ROLLED HIS FINGERS OUT FLAT

Joseph Jondreans Painfully Injured at Howe Brothers' Batting Factory.

Joseph Jondreans, who is employed at the Howe Brothers' bat factory as a carder, will, in all probability, lose two of the fingers of his left hand, as the result of an accident that occurred at the factory. While moving some heavy machinery Jondreans caught his left hand under a piece of machinery weighing two tons, crushing the digits badly. Dr. Judd attended the injury, and if the bones of the two middle fingers are not injured too extensively, there is some hopes that they may be saved.

NUISANCE WAS FOUND IN TIME

Health Officer Gibson Stops a Bad Practice On Wisconsin Street.

Health Officer Gibson had his "eagle eye" wide open yesterday, and he discovered that unknown parties had dumped five barrels of sawdust on the empty lot at No. 7 North Wisconsin street. People who reside in that vicinity could not stand the smell, and the health officer was notified. Chief Acheson soon discovered that the barrels were taken from a west side restaurant at 4 o'clock in the morning and dumped on the lot, so the proprietor of the restaurant had the pleasure of removing the filth, and he did it in a hurry too.

JANESVILLE MUSIC IN DEMAND

Last Evening Was a Busy One For Bowler City Orchestras.

Janesville music was in great demand last evening, and the orchestras received a number of calls which they were unable to fill on account of previous engagements. Smith's orchestra of five pieces left on the noon train yesterday for Hebron, Ill., where they played for a private party. Huyke's orchestra of five pieces furnished inspiration for the Evansville High school exercises, while Tuckwood's orchestra played for the fortnightly club banquet last night.

ALL COAL WILL RISE IN PRICE

Local Dealers Predict That a Raise May Be Looked For.

Local dealers predict a rise in the price of coal and say that the change may be looked for at any moment. The dealers claim that there has been very little if any money in the coal business for some time past and that coal that cost them in the cars in Milwaukee and Chicago $5.90 a ton is selling in this city for $6.00, thus giving them a profit of ten cents a ton on which to pay their men and support themselves.

A BLIND BOY BREAKS HIS ARM

Little Arthur Edwards Painful Fell at the State School.

While playing in the yard for the State School for the Blind, little Arthur Edwards accidentally fell, breaking his right arm near the elbow. The boy resides at Oconto and seems to be pursued by bad luck, for it was but a short time ago that he broke his left arm in a similar manner.

LOCAL MEN CAUGHT IN A LEAF FAILURE

JANESVILLE DEALERS ARE SAID TO HAVE SUFFERED.

Assignment of A. B. Hostetter at Lancaster, Pennsylvania, They Say, Was a Disastrous One and the Edgerton Tobacco Reporter Look Upon It With a Suspicious Eye.

It is quietly whispered that Janesville and Rock county tobacco dealers were caught by the failure of A. B. Hostetter of Lancaster and Philadelphia. The Edgerton Tobacco Reporter explains the matter thusly: "The recent failure of A. B. Hostetter, leaf dealer of Lancaster and Philadelphia, attracts the attention of the tobacco trade from the fact that this same Hostetter was the assignee in the recently deal worked on the trade by B. S. Kindig & Co. a few years ago, in which the creditors received the princely sum of 2 per cent. Hostetter took a few lessons in financiering at that time that has done him a good turn in the present collapse. What is most surprising is that appearances would indicate that tobacco dealers are the most gullible of all people in trade, when they ought to be the shrewdest. How a man of the Hostetter stripe could obtain $200,000 of credit is amazing, but he secured it, and a few secured creditors at home get all the property, while the out-of-town creditors are bilked entirely. With the Kindig Pincoffs and Hostetter deals so fresh in the minds of tobacco people it must soon begin to dawn upon them the importance of doing business on a cash basis. Between big fires and big failures Lancaster is establishing a reputation that is not at all in harmony with its honest quaker ancestry. The losses from fire and failure the past three years has been figured out to reach $700,000.

The New Spanish Minister.

Senor Enrique Dupuy de Lome, Spain's new minister to the United States, is by no means a stranger in Washington. He was Spain's representative at the capital for eight months ending March 2, 1893. Senor de Lome was born in Valencia 43 years ago, and his grandfather was one of Napoleon's generals. He studied in the famous college of Barcelona, spent considerable time in perfecting himself in the law and then entered the Spanish diplomatic service, to which he has since devoted a quarter of a century of his life. He has occupied important positions in the service of his country in Japan, Uruguay, Belgium, Argentine Republic, France, Germany, Italy and the United States.

The Christian Endeavor Convention.

Great preparations are in progress in Boston for the national convention of the societies of Christian Endeavor which is to be held there during the second week in July. An enormous attendance is expected, and Mechanics' hall and two immense tents have been engaged to accommodate it. A monster open air demonstration will be made on the historic Common. The mayor of the city, the governor of the state and other leading men will deliver addresses of a patriotic nature, and Dr. S. F. Smith, the venerable author of "America," will read the words of his famous ode, which will be sung by the multitude, led by a chorus of 3,000 voices and an immense orchestra. Nothing so important as this demonstration has occurred on Boston Common since the days of the Revolution.

The Cat Show.

The dog show, the horse show, the poultry show and the baby show have all had their day, and now the American

BLUE PERSIAN TRIXIE.

Cat club has just closed a popular and successful cat show in New York city, at which $1,000 in prizes was distributed. The cat show has long been the proper thing in London, and for 25 years the exhibitions have been of annual occurrence.

Our Havana Consulate.

Ramon O. Williams, who has been United States consul general at Havana for the past 11 years, was born in Washington, but went to Cuba when a mere boy and remained there with relatives for a number of years. He then returned to Washington, engaged in the RAMON O. WILLIAMS newspaper business and finally again removed to Cuba, where he became such a successful merchant that he was able to retire in 1871. The salary of the office is $6,000 a year, the largest sum paid any consul general in the service of the United States, and the fees swell the income to even more acceptable proportions.

She Was Famous at Eleven.

Few artists achieve fame at the tender age of 11 years, but such was the good fortune of Miss Mildred Howells, the only daughter of the famous novelist. A decade ago Mr. Howells wrote a charming book called "A Little Girl Among the Old Masters." The little girl was Miss Mildred, and the book was illustrated by sketches she made of the famous pictures her father took her to see in the old world galleries and churches. Miss Mildred is now a young lady, but she is still devoted to her art and has done a number of very clever things.

MILDRED HOWELLS.

Dr. H. R. Fish of Gravois Mills, Mo., a practicing physician of many years experience, writes: De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve has no equal for indolent sores, scalds and burns. It stops pain instantly, heals a burn quickly and leaves no scar. C. D. Stevens.

Tale of an Extravagant Girl.

"A penny for your thoughts!" she cried To the dueling by her side. Then she stopped to reconsider And her calm reflection bade her Not to cling To a bargain quite so rash. So she spoke up like a flash: "Hold! That's what bad habits bring— In my extravagant way I always do it. About two prices for a thing!" —Chicago Record

W. T. Sanford, station agent of a Leeper, Clarion Co., Pa., writes: I can recommend One Minute Cure as the best I ever used. It gave instant relief and a quick cure. C. D. Stevens.

A Hop, Skip and Jump.

An athletic eater of this sort would scarcely be considered indolent in one, even of mature age and sedate habits, impelled thereto by excess of joy on recovering his digestion through the instrumentality of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, foremost among remedies for dyspepsia, biliousness and constipation, a trio of evils usually found in conjunction with each other. As the stomach recovers its tone, and the gastric juices are secreted in healthful plenty through the agency of this superb restorative, nerve tranquility, appetite and sleep return, the body gains in substance and the muscles in vigor. For the prevention and cure of malarious, rheumatic, and kidney trouble the Bitters is a most direct and thoroughgoing medicinal agent. Its effects are speedily felt and comprehensive.

In the Past

A good many jokes have been elaborated—at the expense of druggist—on account of his supposed large profits. The above little clipping from the great New York Herald may be taken as an indication that the press and the public are beginning to see the question in another light. We could write volumes on the subject, but perhaps you would not wade through them. This, however we will assert here:—The drug store is the proper place to get anything in the drug line, and we can prove that our prices are as low and our goods as good as anywhere else in town. And we do not try to prove this by advertising "draws" at cost and under, with some article from somebody else's line of business. Here are two of our own lines suitable for present moments.

Two of a Kind.

"The way an Indian loves whisky beats everything," said the soldier. "I once met a Cheyenne on his pony. 'Give me a drink of whisky; I'll give you my bridle for it,' says he. 'No,' says I. 'I'll give you my saddle,' says he. 'No,' says I. 'I'll give you my pony,' says he. 'No,' says I. Finally, if you'll believe it, he offered his bridle and saddle and pony all in a bunch for a drink!"

"Well, and wouldn't you give it to him for all that?" asked the soldier's listener.

"Not much," said the soldier. "I had only one drink left, and I wanted that myself."—Harper's Magazine.

Almost a Hint.

A Bowery merchant is the father of several marriageable daughters. In fact they have been marriageable for a number of years. Not long since one of his clerks left his employment.

"You are a most excellent young man, and enjoy my perfect confidence. I would like to present you with something to remind you of me during the rest of your life," said the merchant.

"I'll be only too glad to take anything you have to offer," replied the clerk.

"I am rejoiced to hear that. Take your pick of my daughters. You need a good wife."

The clerk took his leave.—Alex Sweet, in Texas Siftings.

Two Sides.

Both rich and poor have reason to repine. And of discover that things don't go right; The rich need appetite that they may dine— The poor need dinners for their appetite.

HAPPY AT LAST.

"Hi, fellows, I've found a place where it's over my new rubber boots."—Life.

Editha Was Polite.

It was rather startling to be awakened by the light of a dark lantern shining in one's eyes, but Editha's politeness did not desert her. "Won't you sit down, Mr. Burglar," she said sweetly.

Unthinkingly he obeyed and met his doom, for in another moment he was so entangled in the tidies, throws, ribbons, etc., with which the little willow rocker was covered that he could do nothing but sit still and glare at her as she stepped over to the telephone and called for the police.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Stimulus to Piety.

Jenkins—Great stroke of luck for Brownley. I knew him when he was a poor theological student, and he has just been selected as pastor of one of the most fashionable churches in the city.

Mrs. Jenkins—So I understand. Rich congregation, isn't it?

Jenkins—Rich? They hold special monthly prayer meetings to pray for a tight money market.—Puck.

It Was What He Needed.

The woman was bringing suit for divorce from her scoundrel of a husband.

"He has robbed me of my good name," she said, weeping, to her attorney.

"My dear madam," he replied, consolingly, "don't take it so hard. Is there anybody who needs a good name more than he does?"—Detroit Free Press.

Annoyingly Careful.

Husband (returning to grand stand from paddock)—Confound it! That horse we came down here especially to play has been scratched—it will not run.

Wife (her first appearance)—Will not run it on account of a mere scratch? How aggravating! Why don't they put a piece of court plaster on it, and I'll warrant the horse will be as good as over!—Puck.

Strictly Accurate.

"I almost died when my wife eloped," said the solemn man. "She was an angel, so kind, so loving, so patient. I fairly worshipped her, and she was idolized by everyone who knew her. She was the best woman in the world."

"It seems, then," said one of his hearers, "that she was too good to be true."—Truth.

Another Customer Lost.

Miss De Painture—This stuff won't do at all, and you will have to take it back. It doesn't harmonize with my complexion.

New Clerk (convincingly)—But, madame, it harmonized with the complexion you had when you selected it.—N. Y. Weekly.

Getting Ahead of Him.

Von Blumer—My wife has just changed her maids. Now she has a colored one.

Plankington—What did she get a colored one for?

Von Blumer—I suppose it was because I can't see to kiss her in the dark.—N. Y. World.

She Stayed at Home.

Clara—Dear me! Those toilet things I ordered haven't come.

Maud—Then I don't suppose you'll have the face to go to the ball to-night.—Life.

Pointed.

Bennick—This world is full of fools. Cynic—Yes, and a funny thing about them is that they all seem to be onto one another.—Puck.

ANSWERED THE FINAL SUMMONS

Mrs. Sophia Honeysette, wife of Samuel Honeysette died at her home in the town of Plymouth on May, 24, aged seventy-one years. Mrs. Honeysette was born in the town of Brighton, Sussex, Co., England, and came to this country in 1850 and was married to her now bereaved husband May 27, 1850. Nine children were born to them, seven of whom were present at the funeral, two having preceded her to the better land.

She made a public profession of faith in Christ in 1883 and identified herself with the Baptist church, which relation she sustained at the translation to the church triumphant.

For years before she made a public profession, she walked in fellowship with Heaven, and by her godly example in the home life, made an impression lasting as the mind itself, and "by it she being dead yet speaketh."

In her death Rock county has suffered the loss of one of its universally respected pioneers, the family a Godly mother, an affectionate wife and the church an earnest, sincere Christian.

But we sorrow not as those without hope, for her who sleeps in Jesus. May we follow her as she followed Christ. The funeral was held from the Methodist church at Footville, which was crowded with sympathizing friends. Rev. Thomas Potter of Allen Grove, a life long friend of the family, conducted the services and administered words of sympathy from Rev. xiv-xiii "And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, write, blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, from henceforth, yes, saith the Spirit that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follow them."

The song service was conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Hastings and Mr. and Mrs. Ogden, and the pall bearers were four of her sons.

Mrs. Wilter—I hope so.—Detroit Free Press.

MONEY MADE AT HOME.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $23.33; the month before $18.56, and have at the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and not much experience. When you have an article that every family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap dish washer was never before placed on the market. With the Perfection, which sells for $5 you can wash and dry the dishes for a family in two minutes, without putting the hands in water. As soon as people see the washer work, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars address The Perfection Mfg. Co. Station O, Englewood, Ill. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman, in any location can make $5 to $10 a day, as every family will very soon have a dish washer. Try it and publish your experience for the benefit of others. ALICE O.

Great Luck.

Wiggleton (meditatively)—It is marvelous the luck some men have.

Hobbs—Any particular instance?

Wiggleton—I just happened to think of Naudgerly.

Hobbs—Why, he died last night.

Wiggleton—Yes, just twenty-four hours before his life insurance expired.—Boston Home Journal.

Contrary to Custom.

The nick—A very mysterious case of the accidental shooting of a boy by another boy with a pistol occurred yesterday.

Dudley—I heard about it. But what is there mysterious connected with it?

Chennick—Why, the boy that had the pistol knew that it was loaded.—N. Y. World.

Establishing a Theory.

"Do you think," said the intellectual young woman, "that there is any truth in the theory that big creatures are better natured than small ones?"

"Yes," answered the young man, "I do. Look at the difference between the Jersey mosquito and the Jersey cow."—Life.

IT'S A MILLSTONE

About a young man's neck to be a sufferer from nervous exhaustion, nervous debility, impaired memory, low spirits, irritable temper, and the thousand and one derangements of mind and body that result from, unnatural, pernicious habits, contracted through ignorance.

Such habits result in loss of manly power, duce softening of the brain, epilepsy, paralysis, and even dread insanity.

To reach, re-claim and restore such unfortunate to health and happiness, is the aim of the publishers of a book written in plain but chaste language, on the nature, symptoms and curability, by home treatment, of such diseases. This book will be sent sealed, in plain envelope, on receipt of ten cents in stamps, for postage. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 603 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Hon Ainsworth R. Spafford, Librarian of Congress: "Johnson's Universal Cyclopaedia, published by D. Appleton & Co., answers more questions satisfactorily than any other reference work in the library of Congress."

Is it true economy to buy these works?

Is it wise to withhold the advantages offered in them from your children?

SCROFULA

Miss Della Stevens, of Boston, Mass., writes: I have always suffered from hereditary Scrofula, for which I tried various remedies, and many reliable physicians, but none relieved me. After taking 6 bottles of SSS I am now well. I am very grateful to you, as I feel that it saved me from a life of untold agony, and shall take pleasure in speaking only words of praise for the wonderful medicine, and in recommending it to all.

THE TOWN TALK OF A DAY.

We predicted that this would be the best day of all and we're right. We had no idea of such a rush, but it is easily accounted for as we are selling Banister, Nettleton and Schwab Bros. fine patent leather shoes, that retail regularly at $5 to $7 for $2, $2.50 and $3, come in and get a pair for tomorrow. If this isn't 50 cents on the dollar or less, will treat. Doors open tonight as long as there is a dollar in sight. Becker & Woodruff.

Just a few buggies we are selling this season: 50 percent more than last, and will keep on increasing, because we have more people who have purchased and who will talk for us. Next season we'll sell double as many. Wisconsin Carriage Top Co.

No patent leather shoe in our house more than $3 today, and hundreds of pairs $2 and $2.50, same as always retail for $5 to $7. We are selling $30, 000 worth of shoes at 50 cents on the dollar. Becker & Woodruff.

That $1,000 beer, warranted strictly pure malt and hops, can be found only at M. M. Fardy's, No. 10 Midway, by case. Claret, Reising, Ports, and all California wines, at $1.25 per gallon.

The very latest in the shoe line is Trilby slippers. We have them. We keep nothing but the best and latest. No old stock that has been refused in some other town ever finds entrance at our doors. A. Richardson Shoe Co.

MANY special prices today and this evening at Munger's, 20 N. Main street. Goldust washing powder that usually sells for 25 cents, we are selling today at 18 cents. A. C. Munger.

TODAY and this evening is the time we are selling all $3.50, $4 and $4.50 shoes, all new styles, at $2 and $2.50. A. Richardson Shoe Co.

All the valuable new books for summer at Sutherland's.

TRILBY slippers at A. Richardson's Shoe Co.

At the present rate of sales we will sell 500 Henney buggies easy this season. The reason we are selling so many is because the majority of the people can be satisfied with no other buggy. They look around and then buy the Henney. F. A. Taylor.

OUR number is 57 West Milwaukee St. Be sure you get in the right place, as this is the only shoe house in this block that has a special Saturday sale advertised. Lloyd & Son.

TONIGHT we will continue to sell as fine Burbank potatoes as one ever saw at 65 cents a bushel. This is a saving of 15 cents a bushel, and the best butter, northern dairy, at 16 cents a pound. This is another saving of two cents a pound. Nolan Bros.

In Our Glory.

Ain't the shoe merchants having a picnic in Janesville? Never has there been a year when so many shoes have been sold from this point. A quarter of a million of dollars will not cover it. We have customers come here from Chicago and Milwaukee and buy shoes because they can buy them cheaper. We knew just such a state of affairs was coming about so we prepared ourselves for it, and are in the hottest of the business. We are selling shoes today that cannot be replaced for twice the money the way leather is but we don't care. We are making a handsome profit satisfying everybody and their pocketbooks, and will continue the good work. When this stock is gone we can get another one and we will. All Banister, Nettleton and Schwab Bros. fine patent leather shoes the $5 and $7 kind, $2, $2.50 and $3 today and tonight. Becker & Woodruff.

"There Is Danger in Delay."

Since 1861 I have been a great sufferer from catarrh. I tried Ely's Cream Balm, and to all appearances am cured. Terrible headaches from which I had long suffered, are gone.—W. J. Hitchcock, late Major U. S. Vol. and A. A. Gen., Buffalo, N. Y.

Ely's Cream Balm has completely cured me of catarrh when everything else failed. Many acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Alfred W. Stevens, Caldwell, Ohio.
